

Office Mobility

Control and Access. Redefined.

With today's workforce becoming more mobile and distributed, Astound Business Office Mobility extends a business's unified phone communications and calling features to iOS and Android devices, PCs and Macs. This mobile/desktop application gives the appearance of being in the office when making calls from a smartphone or a computer.

Offered with Astound Business Hosted Voice and Business Phone with Call Manager, empower your employees to collaborate more effectively with co-workers, vendors and customers in a timely manner, with a secure, remote connection to their business phone.

With Office Mobility, you can:

- Boost productivity by keeping employees in contact with coworkers, vendors, and customers
- Close sales, solve problems, and respond to urgent requests more effectively by enabling employees to work virtually anywhere
- Improve service and satisfaction by interacting with customers in real time—on location or from a distance
- Minimize interruptions, and stay focused on your work by answering calls right from your computer

The app enables you to make calls using your Astound Business number, as if you are in the office. Move conference calls from your office phone to your mobile phone or computer and back again without dropping the call. Check your business voicemail, set your business phone to ring to your devices, change and record your voicemail greetings, see your missed business calls and access your business contacts. As if you never left the office!
